CARDIOVASCULAR SOCIETY MAURITIUS

History

The Cardiovascular Society (Mauritius) is a national cardiac society with interest in cardiovascular medicine.

In 2012, the majority of cardiologists in Mauritius felt the need and strongly wished that there should be an active cardiovascular society to act as a platform:

- *to promote the best practice of cardiovascular medicine and contribute in the reduction of the burden of cardiovascular disease in Mauritius
- *to hold periodical scientific meetings and conferences
- *to promote continuous professional development of health care providers
- *for the continuous improvement / advancement of scientific knowledge
- *for continuously reviewing guidelines / updates
- *for doing research in the field of cardiology

The Cardiovascular Society (Mauritius) was founded on the 12th December 2012, and it regroups cardiologists, cardio-thoracic and vascular surgeons of Mauritius (about 60 members to date). The Society was registered by the Registry of Associations on the 12th April 2013 (registration no. 13268).

We are pleased to inform you, that the Cardiovascular Society (Mauritius) is affiliated to:

1. The Pan-African Society of Cardiology (PASCAR) since October 2015,
